

Till dans (For Dancing)
-new CD with Ahlberg, Ek & Roswall

On April 6, 2018, the album Till dans (For Dancing) was released at The Folk and World Music Gala in Norrköping/Linköping's Folkmusic Festival. With this record, that contains the group's traditional dance repertoire, they are brought back to whence they first began - on the traditional folk dance floor. It was back then, when Emma joined Daniel and Niklas as guest performer for traditional dance concerts with the group Ranarim, that the trio was born.

Playing music for traditional folk dancing is something of this group's passion, something close to the heart of these musicians. Over the years, they've been diligently hired as traditional folk dance musicians during concerts, festival appearances and dancing workshops during which they've often been approached and asked about their dance tunes and if these had been recorded.

Therefore, AER now have recorded their best traditional dance tunes, a record both for listening and dancing to.

The album's repertoire consists of traditional tunes that the trio have played for dancing events but never added to any of their previous albums, as well as newly composed tunes. The album has been recorded in Nevo Studios in Sundsvall, Sweden, mixed by Mats Wester and is released by the label Dimma Sweden.
